FNS50315 Diploma of Finance and Mortgage Broking Management

Gaining entry into the growing field of Finance & Mortgage Broking has never been easier than with IIT's formally recognised FNS50315 Diploma of Finance and Mortgage Broking Management Course. Working as a mortgage broker is not only a profitable job, but also a rewarding one as more and more consumers seek professional help from a broker to improve their personal housing or business finances. The FNS50315 Diploma of Finance and Mortgage Broking Management course is available as Government Funded for eligible students.

This course is comprised of FOUR specialist courses:

Finance Broking Regulatory Framework

Provides students with an understanding of the regulatory framework in which the Finance and Mortgage Broker professional operates. The module investigates the National Credit Code, Lending Conduct, Industry Codes of Practice and ethics. The module also explores topics related to the identification and management of risk in relation to finance and mortgage broking. Students will also consider the role of The Credit Ombudsman Service Ltd and the Australian Credit License.

Finance Broking and Consumer Finance

Introduces students to consumer finance products and provides an understanding of the finance broking profession. Students will study the costs of credit provision and how lenders earn income from credit products interest charges. Students will also investigate the credit granting decision.

Advanced Consumer Finance

In this module students build on their consumer finance studies to study topics including the credit life cycle, lender selection, debt recovery, credit cards and debit cards, write-offs, sales and legal action.

Business and Car Finance

Provides students with an introduction and overview of business and car finance. Students will investigate a range of products for business including low-doc loans and business overdrafts. Car finance options including hire purchase loans and novated leasing arrangements are also considered.
